FORD COUPE FUND

NOW $586.65; ONLY $46 MORE NEEDED

News-Times Fund Almost Complete—Total to Be Reached Monday.

Goal: The News-Times fund for the purchase of a Ford coupe to be presented to the Mishawaka chapter of the American Red Cross is within $46.45 of the total of $633 required. Donations received up to 6 o'clock last night totaled $586.65, a jump of $71.10 over the preceding day. Unused donations amounting to about $30 are now in sight and the total fund should be completed by Monday night.

News-Times proves the efficiency of the fund as a medium for putting over anything it undertakes. But the credit is not due to the News-Times alone. An earnest but small group of workers have been canvassing every day and the response has been very generous. Donations have come in from all walks of life and from every phase of the city's business life.

The city firemen, after donating $15, made a second drive among themselves and donated another $10, bringing their total up to $25. The Rubber Regenerating Co. donated $25. A few friends in the Mishawaka Woolen Co. donated $11.60. A friend whose modesty prevents mention by name gave $10. Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Vogt, always ready and generous in any good cause, donated $10.

The funds are on deposit at the Mishawaka Savings and Trust bank and in the names of Frank E. Coats, popular undertaker, who is treasurer of the fund. As soon as the total of $633 is on hand, the Ford coupe will be purchased.

Charles J. Roy Co. will paint an attractive Red Cross design on the new car.

The Ford coupe will be the property of the Mishawaka chapter of the American Red Cross, but will be presented with the express understanding that it is to be used by Mrs. Sue N. Bauer, resident nurse, during her stay in Mishawaka.

The Ford coupe will be a boon to Mrs. Bauer, who has endeared herself to everyone in Mishawaka by her splendid work, her broad charity, and her unselfish work among the poor and the needy.

AN APPRECIATION.

Major George W. Blair, commander of Mishawaka Post 161, American Legion, in writing to The News-Times expressing his thanks for the publicity given the news and activities of the Legion, has this to say:

I can't help but express my appreciation for the cooperation you are giving the American Legion in publishing in Monday night's issue of each week an article prepared by Mr. Coats, the post adjutant, dealing with those things that are of interest to Legion men and all ex-service men.

"We believe if these articles are continually kept before the public's eye they will get a better idea of what the American Legion is doing and intends to do, and that the great benefit will accrue, both to the general public and the ex-service men, in a better appreciation of the ideals for which the Legion was formed and which they have constantly before them."

INVISIBLE JOBLESS ARMY IN GERMANY

Four Million Perform Work Not Necessary, Dr. Rathenau Tells Allies.

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—The International News Service is able to reveal the high lights of Dr. Walter Rathenau's speech before the allied supreme council at Cannes, when he passionately pleaded Germany's financial cause and promised German cooperation in any international or private syndicate for the reconstruction of world economies.

"It is utterly impossible to fix the German internal budget until the mark is stabilized," Dr. Rathenau told the council. "Every new fall of the mark upsets our budget, and further, the mark is gradually absorbing itself, it is living upon its own substance."

"We have an 'invisible unemployment' army today of 4,000,000, doing work which was formerly unnecessary," Dr. Rathenau said to say that we are hoarding goods.

"Due to the fall of the mark, foreigners have practically bought out Germany. Our money has become the football of international speculation."

"Germany has always been an orderly country, but passed through a revolution, we feel the resulting abnormal condition, conditions which we ourselves sincerely desire to remove."

Dr. Rathenau, who was former minister for reconstruction in the German cabinet, is considered the foremost expert on economics in Germany. He headed the German delegation of experts which went to Paris to consult with the inter-allied reparations commission and later he headed another delegation to Cannes to furnish the supreme council with the information as to Germany's financial and industrial position.

Dr. Rathenau spoke for three hours before the council. He was frequently interrupted by the French, who delivered their inquiries through Premier Lloyd George. He laid stress upon the request for greater freedom of action on the part of the Reichsbank and warned the council that allied control of German finances would shake the feeling of responsibility.

Squeaks of Rats Heard at Dental Clinic Meet

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The squeaks of rats and the grunts of guinea pigs were heard at the annual clinic of the Chicago Dental Society which opened a three-day session yesterday. Dr. E. V. McCollom, of Johns Hopkins university, who has several thousand rats, pigs and other animals with which he has been experimenting, brought to the clinic a large assortment of the pets so as to give a demonstration of diet and food values.

The medical fraternity avowed much interest in Dr. McCollom's experiments. He feeds one group of pigs on a strict diet for a few months, then changes and gives them entirely different food. On one diet they grow strong and alert and on the other feeble and dull.

Dr. McCollom planned three menus for the dental meeting, showing relative values of foods and the best combination of vegetables.

SHANTUNG PROBLEM AROUSES POPULACE

News That Parley "Failed" to Settle Knot Causes Storm in China.

SHANGHAI, China, Jan. 21.—A storm of popular anger and bitterness has developed swiftly in China due to the publication of messages from the Washington conference stating that Shantung's fate will not be decided by the conference, but is to be referred to a Japanese-Chinese parley.

Thousands of students, representatives of Chinese organizations and merchants have joined a nationwide movement of protest. What probably is the forerunner of a new country-wide uprising, the outstanding purpose of which will be to prevent any direct negotiations between China and Japan on the Shantung question and to bring about the final abrogation of Japan's notorious "21 demands" of 1915, are the mass meetings and parades being held in practically every large city in China.

The new storm of indignation has arisen overnight.

When the news dispatches arrived here from America a bitter protest arose. The first organized meeting against the action of the conference was held at a great mass meeting in Shanghai. Thousands of students, merchants and organization representatives marched through the streets carrying banners bearing the Chinese characters: "Unconditional Return of Shantung," "Cancellation of 21 demands," "Direct Negotiations Doomed," "Present Claims to Conference," "Pray Washington Conference Upholds Righteousness."

Indignation Meeting. Twenty-five thousand Chinese gathered at the military drill-ground where a great open-air indignation meeting was held. The direct result of the meeting was the issuance of a fervid manifesto asserting that the Chinese nation is amazed and the confidence of the people in the good faith of the powers meeting to effect disarmament has been shattered.

Following the meeting cablegrams were dispatched to Peking, to leaders of the Washington conference, to the Chinese delegates at Washington and to the leading Chinese Chambers of Commerce and other organizations throughout China. Copies of the manifesto were sent to all foreign consulates.

The procession of thousands of men, young men and women students and children which marched through the streets of Shanghai led by the China Institute for Destitute Children, followed by representatives from St. John's university, Fudan university, Shanghai Baptist college, Shanghai College of Commerce, Shanghai Fine Arts college and the Yangchow Girls' school, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, the Kiangsu Educational association, Shanghai Street unions, Shanghai guilds and other organizations, merchants and business men.

Send Cablegrams.

Among the cablegrams sent were: 1. To Alfred Soe and colleagues asking them to insist on unconditional restoration of Shantung rights and cancellation of the 21 demands and warning them that any direct parley would be doomed and the settlement of these issues by the conference a vital factor.

2. To Hughes and Balfour informing them that organized demonstrations throughout China demand that the conference should settle the Shantung question.

3. To the Chinese Students' alliance and Chinese citizens commending their demonstration and assuring them of the nation's support.

4. To the American people soliciting their support and notifying them that the Chinese people want direct settlement of these issues affecting the world's peace by the conference, as opposed to direct parley between Chinese and Japanese delegations. The full text of the manifesto is as follows:

"Therefore, we are now entitled to aid in the reconstruction of eastern Europe."

"Germany is like a shipbuilder who is expected to provide the high-speed liner, but at the same time, to deliver a vessel which will consume the minimum amount of coal. I do not believe it would be possible for us to get a large loan abroad."

"Germany does not desire to shake the world markets by dumping and under-cutting of prices."

Cathedrals at the Crossroads is This Pastor's Idea

DENVER, Jan. 21.—There's going to be a cathedral at every crossroads in the west before long. It'll cost $15 to erect each of 'em. How can that be? Why, wherever there isn't a church, folks are going to buy a 115 radiophone receiving set and listen in on sermons and music preached and sung in Denver.

Just the other day the Rev. James Lewis of Grace Community church preached the first radiophone sermon west of the Mississippi.

Juarez, Mexico, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Alberta, St. Louis, Kansas City, Des Moines and Ann Arbor, Mich., heard him!

sued by the mass meeting is as follows:

"As the main objects of the Washington conference convened by President Warren G. Harding are the reduction of armaments and the adjustment of Pacific problems in order to shape the world by holding of another international war, it is exceedingly important that full justice should be done to China, which is one of the most important nations bordering on the Pacific, because the peace of the world is not secure as long as China is made to groan under the crushing burden of injustice arising from the Shantung question, the 21 demands and the unjust terms embodied in the treaties concluded between the foreign powers and China, in which the latter had not been treated on a footing of equality."

How Question Arose.

"The Shantung question arose out of the expulsion of Germans from Tsingtao by the Japanese in the year 1915 in connection with the European war, a campaign which was followed by Japan's refusal to leave the port, where she has ever since entrenched herself. Now, China was one of the nations that arrayed itself on the side of the allies, and when Germany was made to surrender territories which she had seized by force Tsingtao should have automatically been restored to China without any conditions attached to the restoration, and no other nation had any right of intervention. But the Japanese, in defiance of the principles of international justice, had laid a firm grip on Tsingtao and had expanded her influence in the province of Shantung with a view to Japanizing the whole province. Surely this is a case of glaring infringement of the principles of international justice."

"The treaty embodying the 21 demands has not been ratified by the Chinese parliament and has always been repudiated by the whole people of China. Moreover, in view of the internationally recognized principle that treaties concluded under duress are not valid, the treaty in question is incontrovertibly null and void. It is exceedingly regrettable that when this question was discussed at the Paris conference the result was the non-vindication of China's rights."

Had Hopes in Conference.

"The convocation of the Washington conference had brought hopes to our minds, inasmuch as we were given to understand that the nations represented at the conference would be ready to solve with a full measure of justice China's diplomatic problems, which have a direct bearing on the peace of the world."

ing on the peace of the world. What amazed us most was that the Shantung case, according to cable reports received here, would be discussed outside the conference. Such a development would chatter the confidence that we placed in the good faith of the leading nations represented at the conference and is a mystery to the peoples of the friendly nations.

"We beg to utter the emphatic warning that it is in vain to seek the perpetual peace of the world if China's diplomatic problems are again settled on the patched-up basis of compromise. A just solution of these problems will not only be conducive to the prestige of the foreign nations participating at the conference, but will materially contribute to the welfare of the human race. We hope that all having at heart the world's peace will see the moral force of our unrelenting opposition against all forms of direct parley with Japan over the Shantung question and the unconditional abrogation of the 21 demands."
